

5A Chan Yiu Kwan, Jenny

On Sunday, Danny and Jimmy read comics until 1:00 a.m. They read the comics for a long time because the comics was too interesting.

When they woke up, it was already 7:45 a.m. They were very worried because they woke up late. They must go to school as fast as they could. They even didn't eat the bread and they ran out at eight o'clock.

They went out from home very fast, and then they saw a taxi. Jimmy said, 'Taking a taxi is too expensive. I think we will be late as last, so maybe we can walk.' However, Danny, 'Maybe it only takes 10 minutes, so we will not be late at last.' Finally, they got on a taxi.

Unluckily, there was a car accident, so there was a traffic jam. They were very disappointed because they were already late. After a half hour, they arrived at school.

They suddenly remembered that today was a holiday, so they didn't need to go to school. They laughed at each other. They went each home at last.
